Dear Vatche

I am just writing to record the sincere gratitude from myself, my accompanying colleagues and our Masters students for all your efforts and all your help in making our Jordan trip such a success.

They found your presentation to be of great value giving some key and practical insights into the real-world issues that they will face as ICT consultants. Particularly they were humbled by your commitment and story and your willingness to respond to all the questions openly. We really appreciated the time you took off your busy commitments to share your experiences with us.

Many thanks again.

With best wishes
